

Quiz Questions on the article “2000-year-Old Fast Food Stands Called Thermopolia Discovered in Pompeii”

Directions: Answer each questions by selecting the BEST choice from answers given.

1. In February of 2019, archaeologists discovered around 150 thermopolia. According to the article these are also known as?
 - a. Snack Bars
 - b. Dining tables
 - c. Hair product
 - d. Refrigerants
2. According to the article listed above, Thermopolium was a cart with jars used mostly to hold ____?
 - a. Hair product
 - b. Fruits
 - c. Dried meat
 - d. Horse Grain
3. According to the article listed above, thriving businesses that sold bread along with ___?
 - a. Salty fish
 - b. Spicy wine
 - c. Baked cheese
 - d. Lentils
 - e. All the above
4. According to the article listed above, which class of people would eat at such a place?
 - a. Roman upper class
 - b. Roman lower class
 - c. Roman middle class
 - d. Roman homeless
5. According to the article listed above, Thermopolium counters have built-in jars called?
 - a. Dolias
 - b. Vast
 - c. Pitchers
 - d. Pot
6. According to the article listed above, Thermopolia literally means?
 - a. A place where hair products is sold
 - b. A place where wine is sold
 - c. A place where (something) cold is sold
 - d. A place where (something) hot is sold

Directions: Select True (A) or False (B) for each questions, based on the article listed above.

- | | | |
|---|---|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| A | B | 7. Thermopolium was a fast-food stand meant for the upper class? |
| A | B | 8. Recent find was discovered in an area called Regio V. This is not yet open to the public. |
| A | B | 9. Archaeologists estimate that more than 2,000 people died from the volcanic explosion. |
| A | B | 10. Archaeologists first discovered these ancient ruins in 1748. |